Please amend the specification as indicated below in clean version of each replacement paragraph or section:

According to the present invention an article of workwear, comprising a plurality of components incorporating first electrically conductive yarns and an electrically conductive member bridging the junction between adjacent components, has the electrical conductivity between adjacent components enhanced by forming the electrically conductive member from a strip or tape incorporating a plurality of second electrically conductive yarns, which are of larger diameter than the first electrically conductive yarns in the components. Portions of the second electrically conductive yarns are exposed along the length of the strip or tape alternately on a first side and a second side of the strip or tape, and the component and conductive member are attached to one another such that the second electrically conductive yarns are urged into electrically conducting engagement with at least some of the first electrically conductive yarns in both adjacent components. Throughout the specification and the claims the word "yarn" is used
